

Colorado Redistricting: Submitting Written Public Comment

In 2018, Colorado voters approved Amendments Y and Z, which created two citizen-led independent redistricting commissions charged with drawing congressional and state legislative maps. Each 12 member commission will be composed of 4 Democrat, 4 Republican, and 4 Unaffiliated commissioners. Maps approved by the commission must be submitted to the Colorado Supreme Court for final approval and adhere to the following criteria:

Federal Criteria: Districts must have equal population (for Congressional map) and comply with the Voting Rights Act.

State Criteria: As reasonably possible, districts should be contiguous, preserve whole communities of interest, preserve political subdivisions, be compact, and, for state legislative maps, have no more than 5% deviation between most and least populous districts.

Additional Criteria: Thereafter, maximize the number of competitive districts.

Unconstitutional

Criteria: Prohibition on incumbent protection, partisan gerrymandering, or racial gerrymandering.

Opportunities for Public Participation

“Within the first twenty days after the commission has convened, any member of the public and any member of the commission may submit written comments to nonpartisan staff on the creation of the preliminary plan and on communities of interest that require representation in one or more specific areas of the state.”

(Colo. Const. art. V, §44.4 §1) & (Colo. Const. art. V, §48.2 §1)

2021 Colorado redistricting 20-day written public comment periods:

- Congressional Redistricting Commission: March 16 - April 5*
- Legislative Redistricting Commission: March 31 - April 19*

What is a Community of Interest?

The Colorado Constitution defines a Community of Interest as:

“Any group in Colorado that shares one or more substantial interests that may be the subject of federal legislative action, is composed of a reasonably proximate population, and thus should be considered for inclusion within a single district for purposes of ensuring its fair and effective representation.

Such interests include but are not limited to matters reflecting: shared public policy concerns of urban, rural, agricultural, industrial, or trade areas; and shared public policy concerns such as education, employment, environment, public health, transportation, water needs and supplies, and issues of demonstrable regional significance.

Groups that may comprise a community of interest include racial, ethnic, and language minority groups...”

(Colo. Const. art. V §44(3)(b)) & (Colo. Const. art. V §46(3)(b))

Submitting Written Public Comment

Develop your written public comment:

- Step 1: Thank Commission staff and tell them your name.
- Step 2: Describe your community of interest based on the community of interest definition in the Colorado Constitution.
- Step 3: Describe what you want to be reflected in the preliminary map.
- Step 4: Submit your written public comment by visiting: redistricting.colorado.gov/public\_comments/new or emailing them to colorado.redistricting2020@state.co.us.

A fair and transparent redistricting process in Colorado that prioritizes public engagement depends on the strength and support of our volunteers, partners, and grassroots network.
